Seeds from the East: The Korean Adoptee Portrait Project

A.D. Herzel is an internationally recognized artist, educator, designer, and writer currently living in Blue Ridge, Virginia. She is also a Korean adoptee who explores her identity and creates community through her art. Herzel was adopted in 1970 by a religious family which adopted three Korean children and sponsored about 50 other children. This exhibit will present graphite portraits of Korean adoptees accompanied by silhouettes executed in gold ink and sgraffito drawings of flowers, seeds, spirals, and other imagery specific to each portrait. Herzel offers her art as a way to help process grief and trauma, as well as to join the larger conversation about place and belonging in immigrant communities across the globe. Herzel writes, "It has taken me 50 years to give light to the shadow of my adoption story. This current flowering moment, rooted and wrapped in the tendrils of history is seeded by the currents of global, religious, and political history. My story though textured with facets, divets, and spikes is just one story in the Korean diaspora and one of the many American immigrant stories worth examining." This exhibit is sponsored in part by the City of Roanoke through the Roanoke Arts Commission.

Renewing Threads: Tapestries and the Arts of Textile Conservation

In 1950, two beautifully detailed 16-17th century tapestries were purchased from French & Co. by the Hollins art department. They flanked the stage of Hollins' "Little Theatre" until taken down in 2012 during the building's renovation. The tapestries have undergone conservation treatment by Textile Conservator Jane Hammond at Intermuseum Conservation Association (ICA), Cleveland, OH. This exhibition features the tapestries with photo documentation of their detailed conservation treatment and new research on the tapestries' makers and provenance. This exhibit is sponsored in part by the City of Roanoke through the Roanoke Arts Commission.

Plural Possibilities: Figurative Works from the Permanent Collection

This exhibition explores the gendered construction and deconstruction of the body and its representation. Across painting, photography, printmaking, and a range of artistic strategies from abstraction to documentary, this exhibit aims to create a counterpoint to persistent myths and reductive ideas about femininity and gender norms.

1:30-3:30 p.m.

Fall and Families on the Moody Plaza, Moody Plaza (rain location: front porch of Main)

Join the dean of students' office staff for fall-themed arts, crafts, snacks, and hot apple cider.

3:30-4:30 p.m.

Around the World in 60 Minutes, Moody Center, Goodwin Private Dining Room

In this interactive session, you will learn about all the places in the world to which Hollins students have traveled. Hear not only about the many opportunities to study and intern abroad, but also hear from students who have studied abroad as well as from some of our international students.

4:30-5:15 p.m.

What Don't YOU Know?, Moody Center, Goodwin Private Dining Room

In the BLI Family Weekend session, What Don't YOU Know?, parents will receive a brief overview of how we develop students and professionals for more effective functioning. This interactive, informal session can even incorporate a taste of some of our signature approaches to exploring challenges. Offered Friday and Saturday!

4:30-5:30 p.m.

Mocktails @ the Museum, Wetherill Visual Arts Center, lobby

The Eleanor D. Wilson Museum invites students and guests to a mocktail hour. Come view the museum's exhibitions: Seeds from the East: The Korean Adoptee Portrait Project, Renewing Threads: Tapestries and the Art of Textile Conservation, and Plural Possibilities. Participants are encouraged to dress in "mocktail attire" and enjoy a refreshing beverage, provided by Meriwether Godsey catering.

4:30-5:30 p.m.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) Abroad: A student exhibit of DEI images while studying abroad, Wetherill Visual Arts Center, lobby

Come and view images of diversity, equity, and inclusion in countries around the world in which Hollins students studied for Spring 2022. Engage in conversation with the students present as well as Director Ramona Kirsch. Learn more about the many global initiatives that are underway at Hollins and find out more details about how Hollins supports students who want to study abroad. This exhibit will be on display in the Wetherill Visual Arts Center lobby throughout the weekend.

4:30-7 p.m.

Dinner, Moody Center - $9.50 per guest

7 p.m.

Movie: *Scooby-Doo, Wetherill Visual Arts Center, Niederer Auditorium

After an acrimonious break up, the Mystery Inc. gang are individually brought back to an island resort to investigate strange goings on. Rated PG. Runtime: 1h 26m.

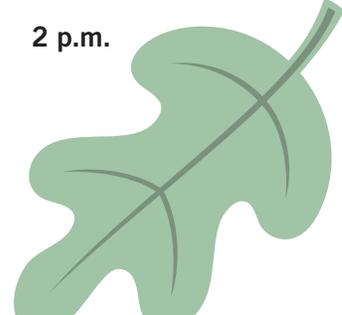

7:30 p.m.

First-Year Student Spotlight Reading: *Frankenstein, Botetourt Hall, Botetourt Reading Room

Written by Danielle Mohlman. Hollins theatre department is excited to share a reading of this modern, feminist adaptation of Mary Shelley's seminal novel, Frankenstein—featuring first-year theatre students.

When Mary Shelley sits down to write Frankenstein, she's 18 years old with everything to prove. She's grieving the death of her infant daughter. And in this era of gothic literature, no one wants to believe that the darkness on the page mirrors the storm in her own head. This adaptation of Mary Shelley's classic novel explores monsters and the women who create them. It's a play that asks the age-old question: How far would you go to outrun your ghosts?
